

SUNDAY

Bennett, Coleman & Co. Ltd.

TIMES

INDIA'S LARGEST ENGLISH NEWSPAPER

1,200 kids draw rainbow dreams at art workshop

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Kolkata: The Apeejay Anand Children's Library, under the aegis of Apeejay Schools, hosted the 32nd edition of the Anand Art Workshop recently. The library has been hosting the workshop since 1993 in memory of Anand Paul, born on Feb 26, who died in a tragic accident.

The theme this year was 'Life is a Rainbow - Jeevan Ek

Indradhanush'.

More than 1,200 students aged between nine and 12 years used colours to express themselves in a variety of forms representing hope in times of darkness and difficulty. Hosted at the Apeejay House lawns and also in the grounds of Apeejay School in Hal-dia, and Bhubaneswar on Feb 26, the day witnessed children exploring their creativity on the earthen vessels and pots provided by the Anand Library. The best three selected artworks from all the venues were awarded certificates of honour and gift hampers. All participants received goodie bags with stationery items. Darryl Bloud, CEO of Apeejay Schools, stressed how art, music, sports and performing arts served as a therapeutic outlet for children, helping them cope with life's challenges.

Children take part in the workshop at the Apeejay House lawns