ST HELENS were crowned Super League champions for the first time since 2006 after an explosive 14-6 Grand Final victory over arch-rivals Wigan at Old Trafford.

WIGAN
ST HELENS broke a 12-year hoodoo when they won the Super League Grand Final at Old Trafford on Sunday. The victory was a triumph for the 12-man Wigan side, who had been unbeaten in 12 Grand Finals since their last triumph in 2006.

BBC Sport

St Helens' James Roby and Paul Wellens could have been forgiven for joining the queue of Wigan players trudging up to be handed their losers' medals after Saturday's Super League Grand Final.

After all, for five years running it was an unhappy ritual for the Saints pair. Leeds Rhinos conquered them four times between 2007 and 2011, while 2010's defeat by fierce rivals Wigan made up the quintet of misery under
